Disclaimer of the Data Controller

In case any of the following occurs, the Company may need to deny your request.

- (1) Applicant fails to clearly prove that the Applicant is the Data Subject or certified Proxy.
- (2) Such request does not have reasonable ground, for example, where the Applicant does not have the right to request access to Personal Data or the Company does not own such Personal Data.
- (3) Such requests are superfluous, i.e., all requests are the same nature or are repeating the same content without justification.

- (4) The Company is unable to provide you with access, make copies, or disclose information regarding the acquisition of Personal Data, if this would be in contravention of the law or a court order or otherwise, if the fulfilment of such a request will have an adverse impact on the rights and liberties of others.

In general, the Company will be able to process the request free of charge. However, if it is obvious that such a request is overly cumbersome and time consuming, the Company may charge a reasonable fee for the exercise of Data Subject Rights.

After considering the reason of your request, the Company will notify the result of the consideration and take relevant actions within 30 days from the date of receiving the request.

In the event that the Company refuses to process your request, you can make a complaint to the Personal Data Protection Committee at the Office of the Personal Data Protection Committee, Ministry of Digital Economy and Society.

Acknowledgment and Consent

By way of execution below, I have carefully read and understood the contents of this request and confirm that the information that has been given to the Company is true and correct. I understand that the verification process of my authority is essential in order to exercise Data Subject Rights. The Company may request additional information from me for such investigations in order to ensure the correctness and completeness of the proceedings, permission of access, copying or disclosure of the acquisition of information. If I provide false statement and/or information with fraudulent intent, I may be prosecuted under the applicable law.
